La Salle Woman is After Estate

ENSEL'S COMMON LAW WIFE

She is Said to Have Declined a Cash Settlement of $2,300

The notorious Frankie LaSalle will attempt to establish a common law marriage with the late Gus Ensel, a building on whose estate she continues to occupy.

The LaSalle woman came in for a portion of Ensel's estate as a gift, but it now appears she will not be satisfied with this alone. Her designs upon the real estate appeared when she was directed to move from the building. She then claimed to own it as heir because of the domestic relations that are said to have existed between her and her deceased landlord.

Threats and promises have failed to move her, and she still squats on the premises. Even an offer of $2,300-cash that is said to have been made her has failed to induce her to leave the place. Ensel is quoted as having expressed the wish that she be given this sum.

As the Ensel estate is valued at $25,000 the efforts of the woman to establish a title to it will become of interest. Many thousands of dollars are said to be involved.

FIRE SCARE

Fire broke out at the rear of the John Scholl buildings, occupied by Adam Forscher's cigar store and Leithold's music store at 4:20 this afternoon.

Dense volumes of black smoke were seen rolling up from the rear of the Batavian bank building, and a cry went up in the streets that this magnificent structure was burning. An excited crowd rushed to the scene.

The fire was first discovered by O. Walter Hosly, of the Forscher store. The department from Central station responded quickly, and by the time Forscher and Leithold had closed

Tired of carrying The St. Paul Globe, "Jim" Hill threw it away in disgust. Another public utility organ is expected to take a tumble.

ALMOST DASHED
FROM PRECIPICEBurt Meade and William
Levy Injured in a Startling Runaway

Contractor Burt Meade has been suppressing the story of a sensational runaway down Granddadd bluff, in which only chance saved him and William Levy from death and mutilation on the rocks. Having escaped with comparative good fortune, the young men are said to have wished the matter kept quiet.

Mr. Meade and Levy were returning from an inspection of the quarry work, and when they had reached a particularly precipitous portion of the descent, where a mistep from the winding road meant a plunge to jagged rocks below, a portion of the harness broke and the frantic horse ran wildly down the declivity.

At a sudden turn in the road both occupants were hurled to the rocky road bed, but escaped the fall of many feet to the ledge below. Mr. Meade had his shoulder dislocated and his face badly lacerated, while Mr. Levy's head was cut open and he received other painful injuries. Both men are now about town as usual, looking however somewhat the worse for their adventure.

STORY HAWLEY IS TO QUIT UNTRUELa Crosse's Fast Manager to Stay---Coppers to Attend Games

The story that has been spread about the streets to the effect that Manager, Pink Hawley would resign from the baseball association here to accept another position, is emphatically denied by President Elliott. It is said the story must have been started by persons entertaining feelings of personal animosity toward Mr. Hawley. The tale has been industriously circulated.

It is promised that there will be an innovation at the baseball park when the teams cross bats next Thursday. The blue coats and brass buttons of the regular police force will be in evidence.

There has been a good deal of coarse talk in the grandstand, with no effort to suppress it; complaint has been heard of players taking the law into their own hands and while in a temper precipitating scenes of violence calculated to alienate the support of respectable people. It is proposed that there shall be no further occasion for this, and the management wishes it understood that more spectacles of this sort will not be tolerated.

Chief Byrne said to The Tribune today that if the club had extended courtesies to the officers they would be glad to attend in uniform and be of service, just as they have done at the fairs. President Elliott's attention was called to this, and he replied that officers would be admitted without passes, their stars either exposed in uniform or carried in the pockets of citizens' clothing being good for admittance at the park.

FRAUD AND DECEIT IS CHARGED

Sensational Complaint Filed Today in Suit Against Plantation Promoters

The complaint of the Mexican Plantation against Michael Funk, E. A. Funk, Albert P. Funk, Charles T. Seiler, R. R. Schaettle, William S. Beck, Eman L. Beck and William Funk, promoters of said company, was served and filed in the circuit court today.

The complaint makes sensational charges of fraud and deceit, in which it is alleged the promoters were involved in a conspiracy to cheat other parties.

It is alleged that Emen L. Beck, as agent for a piece of wild and uncultivated Mexican land, joined with his co-defendants in a scheme whereby the land was sold to others for 100 times its value, defendants partaking of profits in the sale in the form of commission, and acquiring without consideration large portions of the stock subsequently issued by the corporation.

The figures in the complaint indicate that the defendants bought the land for $4,000 and sold it to the company, paying themselves $4,

JOHN W. GANE HEA
WISCONSIN GRANDVAGRANT TRIED TO BURN UP VILLAGEHouston Firebug Was Same
"Seldom Seen" Who Was Arrested in La Crosse

A mysterious vagrant believed here to be insane, tried to burn up the village of Houston, Minn., the other evening a few hours after having been deported from La Crosse.

"Seldom Seen" is the name by which T. F. Mead of queer antics and questionable fame is known up and down the Mississippi. He was arrested by Officer Taylor in the north side a few days ago.

"Where did you come from," asked Taylor.

"From where I started."

"Where are you going?"

"To where I stop."

Seldom Seen stopped in the calaboose that night, and was shipped south in the morning. The next night he succeeded in keeping warm by burning two barns in Houston, and his plan to burn the town was arrested only by the vigilance of Officer Connor, town marshal of Houston.

Meade was given a hearing, and was bound over to the circuit court at Caledonia, on a charge of arson. He is now awaiting trial in the Houston County jail.

When in La Crosse Seldom Seen was well fixed financially. He had about $50 in cash in his possession, and also possessed a certificate of deposit on a Wausau bank for $50.

At the dinner there were present to meet the king, beside Mr. and Mrs. Longworth, Miss Reid, the Duke of Richmond and Gordon, the Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch, the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, the Duke of Roxburghe, Lord and Lady Crewe, Lord Tweedmouth, Countess Grey (wife of the governor general of Canada), Lady Townley (wife of the secretary of the British embassy at Washington), Lord and Lady Lansdowne, Paul Cambon (the French ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps), with Admiral Pountney (of the French navy), the Earl and Countess of Powis, the Earl and Countess of Gosford, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, Mr. and Mrs.

Joseph Chamberlain, Sir John and Lady Lister-Kaye, the Countess of Yarborough, Mrs. Don Cameron (wife of the late secretary of war of the United States), Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills, J. Ridgeley Carter (secretary of the United States embassy), and Delaney Jay (private secretary to Ambassador Reid).

FLOWERS IN PROFUSION

Mrs. Longworth Takes Precedence
Even of the Duchesses.

Particular care had been taken not to mar by undue decorations the beauties of the interior of Dorchester House, but flowers of every variety, cut and potted, were used in profusion in banking the bases of the massive columns and railings of the grand staircase. Over the main entrance, which overlooks the Stanhope gate entrance of Hyde Park from Park Lane, a marble eagle looked down upon the arriving guests, who on entering passed between banks of flowers to the head of the stairway, where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. Reid and presented in turn to King Edward and Mr. and Mrs. Longworth.

Dinner was served in the main dining hall, which contains many valued paintings, for which Dorchester House is famous, and which no scheme of embellishment could improve. The table, however, stood out even amidst this grandeur, with its simple but artistic arrangement of Alexandra and other varieties of orchids. King Edward took Mrs. Reid, and at the king's desire Mrs. Longworth was seated at the other side of him, thus taking precedence of the duchesses. Ambassador Reid escorted the Duchess of Marlborough, with the Duchess of Buccleuch on his left.

There was less formality than at purely English functions attended by the king, who was technically for the time on United States soil. For the musical entertainment some hundred guests were invited, among them members of the diplomatic corps. Duke and Duchess of Norfolk, Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, the Duke and Duchess of Westminster, Duke and Duchess of Wellington, Duke and Duchess Somerset, Duchess of Manchester, Duke of Manchester, Earl of Clarendon, War Secretary Haldane, Lewis Harcourt and Lady Harcourt, Sir Charles and Lady Hardinge, Winston Churchill and Lady Chesterfield.

The concert was almost as notable as the dinner, the programme being provided by vocalists—Mme. Eames, Mme. Kirkby Laun, Signor Caruso and Signor Gilbert. Each of those sang two songs and the programme concluded with a quartette from "Rigoletto." Supper was served at separate tables under a pavilion erected over the north garden, which was overlooked from a picturesque portico, a very pretty effect being produced. King Edward presided over one of the tables, at which there were fifteen guests.

WHAT THE REBATE DECISION WAS

Kansas City, June 13.—The rebate case against the big Chicago packers went to the jury yesterday, and in an hour the jury's verdict was ready and in court. It found all the defendants guilty, and sentence was postponed until the railway defendants have had their trial. The cases were those of Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Cudahy & Co. and the Nelson Morris Packing company. They were charged in indictments with accepting from the Burlington railway concessions on shipments from the Kansas City plants to New York for export. The specific case considered, which is practically identical with the others, is that charging Cudahy & Co. with accepting a rate of 23 cents per 100 pounds on a shipment of lard to New York for export to Germany, when the legal tariff then on file with the interstate commerce commission was 35 cents.

Contention of the Defense.

Counsel for the defendants contended that the court lacked jurisdiction, which was overruled by Judge McPherson, and then that when the defendants signed a contract covering the 23-cent rate it was legal, and that the Burlington later raised its tariff to 35 cents. The contract was made to cover a certain number of years, which number had not elapsed when the rate was raised, and counsel for the defense contended that such contracts were legitimate and necessary in a business like the packing trade where knowledge of what the transportation rates will be for a considerable period in the future is an important point.

No Help in the Judge's Charge.

Judge McPherson's instructions were against the defendants on almost every point of importance. He did say that intent to do wrong must be proved, but this favorable point was neutralized by the statement that to be not guilty of intent the defendant must be ignorant that he is receiving concessions, which was manifestly a very improbable state of affairs.

Law Smashes Contracts.

The pith of the judge's charge was in his statement that the defendant "could not knowingly receive a less rate or concession than that paid by the general public without being guilty of receiving an unlawful concession, provided that the same was thus received by an kind of device as hereinafter recited. This is so because the right, privilege, and liberty of contract usually existing between all persons and corporations is modified and controlled by that provision of the constitution which gives to congress the right to regulate commerce between the states and foreign nations."

The case of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad company, charged with other roads with giving rebates on export shipments of packing house products to Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Cudahy & Co., and the Nelson Morris & Co., was begun as soon as the verdict in the packers' case was rendered. The cases, which are practically identical, were combined for trial purposes. Both sides agreed to a statement of facts, in which it was admitted that contract existed between the Burlington company and the packers by which the freight of the latter was to be carried at a through rate of about 49 cents Kansas City, Kan., to Liverpool and other foreign points.

It also was agreed that no such rate was published and filed with the interstate commerce commission. Leslie Lyons, assistant district attorney, in his opening statement to the jury, said that his rate, which it would be shown was divided between the Burlington, the Lehigh Valley, the Grand Trunk and Western and the Toledo, St. Louis and Western, was a concession on the regular tariff.

Judge O. M. Spencer, of St. Joseph, who represented the Burlington, contended that the contract was a valid instrument; that there was no through rate from Kansas City, Kan., to New York, joint or published, to which the Burlington was a party, and hence no concessions could have been made by it on eastern line rates, or from the rates of some other than its own road and own rates. If the defendant railroad was guilty of anything it was guilty of failing to publish its contract rate. If it had published it then no violation of law could have resulted from a shipment under it. The indictment, he contended, is for departing, or giving concessions from a published joint rate when no such rate, he asserts, was in existence.

GRAND ARMY DELEGATIONS TO BE DOUBLED HEREAFTER

Ranks are Thinning and Showing Must be Made at Encampments; Veterans at Marinette

MARINETTE, Wis., June 13.—The first day of the Grand Army Encampment proved a very auspicious one, the weather being perfect. It closed with a great camp fire at the Chautauqua auditorium attended by several thousand people. There was a musical and literary program, and addresses were made by Corporal Tanner, Gen. A. G. Weissert, Phil Check and others.

The parade in the afternoon was an imposing feature. There were fully 500 veterans in line, reinforced by the three National Guard companies, the Ladies of the Grand Army Women's Relief Corps and other organizations. The encampment closes today with the election of officers. The election of J. W. Gaines of Fox Lake for commander seems certain.

Double the Representation.

D. G. James of Richland Center and Dr. H. E. Mann of this city were re-elected trustees of the Waupaca home. The representation at the state encampment was changed so that there will be just double the number of delegates in attendance hereafter. One delegate will be allowed for each twenty-five members of a post or major fraction thereof, instead of fifty as heretofore required.

Oshkosh Gets Encampment.

Oshkosh secured the next encampment, the vote being 90 for Oshkosh and 74 for Racine, Madison and Ashland both extended invitations.

The Sons of Veterans state convention opened this morning with about 100 delegates present. There was an increase in the membership last year, and it is now 5,221 with nineteen camps. The commander, Col. J. A. Haselwood, advocated that the order be placed on a more business-like basis and recommended that the secretary and treasurer be elected for a term of from three to five years.

Another session was held in the afternoon, and tomorrow morning officers will be elected and business closed. The candidates for commander are: F. E. Cramer of Madison and Fred Graf of Sheboygan.

Help Soldiers' Home.

The W. R. C. convention voted $100 toward furnishing the dining room of the former rebel prison at Andersonville, Ga., which is now a soldiers' home. Mrs. Katherine Bleyer of Milwaukee was elected president and Kate Walker of Oshkosh senior vice-president.

The state convention of the Ladies of the Grand army was called to order yesterday morning. Miss Nellie Clark, presiding. Mrs. Catherine Waters Loomis, the state president of the organization, was unable to be present because of ill-health.

MORE INDICTMENTS EXPECTED AT ASHLAND

ASHLAND, Wis., June 13.—The special grand jury, called for Ashland county last February, which returned thirteen indictments against nine persons in May and resumed its sessions here again today.

True bills were found against J. S. Ellis and Ellis Kennedy, president and cashier respectively of the Security Savings bank, but their cases were carried to the supreme court on a writ of habeas corpus, where they are still pending.

E. M. Daniel, a Milwaukee accountant, has been going through the books of the defunct bank and it is reported that he has uncovered evidence which will lead to several more indictments against President Ellis and Cashier Kennedy.

DENTIST IN SUIT FOR DAMAGES

MADISON, Wis., June 12.—Judge E. Ray Stevens in the Dane County Circuit court heard arguments in the suit for damages brought against Wisconsin and the state dental board by thirteen dental graduates of the Milwaukee Medical college, to compel the board to issue them certificates to practice in the state. The damage suit is to force the state to reimburse the plaintiffs for expenses in fighting the state dental board. The court took the case under advisement. Attorney General L. M. Sturdevant appeared for the state and Attorney Theodore Kronshage of Milwaukee for the plaintiffs.

Escapes Death in Heavy Gear

MARINETTE, Wis., June 13.—William Wankowski, an employee of the pulp mills at Crivitz, was terribly injured, but miraculously escaped being killed in the mills Sunday morning by being caught in the gears. He was oiling up a pair of gears when his shirt caught in the wheels. His right arm was pulled down into the wheels and his neck and head were drawn down before the machinery could be stopped. The right arm was broken. The right ear was almost torn from the head, and the head and neck as well as the shoulder were torn and cut frightfully. In his struggles to free himself from the gears the belt running the machinery was thrown off the wheels and he was thus saved from a frightful death.

KUESTERMAN AFTER MINOR'S SCALP

GREEN BAY, Wis., June 13.—Gustave Kuesterman of this city, chairman of the state board of control, will be a candidate for the nomination for congressman in this, the Ninth district, in opposition to E. S. Minor, the present incumbent and candidate for another term.

On seeing the announcement of Mayor Robert E. Minahan's decision not to become a candidate, which appeared in the Gazette, Mr. Kuesterman decided to step into the breach. Some time ago, at the request of friends, Mr. Kuesterman gave his promise to make the race in case no other desirable man could be put into the field.

It is understood that the republicans of this district, who have been endeavoring to secure an opposition candidate and who are back of the movement to bring out the Green Bay mayor for the position, will unite in the support of Mr. Kuesterman. The formal announcement of his candidacy will be made by the local man within a day or two.

LIMITED TRAIN BY TROLLEY

Bloomington, Ill., June 13.—A limited train by trolley between Chicago and St. Louis will be in operation within the coming year, if the plans of the Illinois Traction company do not go wrong. It is proposed to call this train "The Corn Belt." Three new cars of the largest type and with all the latest improvements have been ordered and will be placed in service between Springfield and St. Louis until the gaps to the north have been completed, when the train will run through between Chicago and St. Louis.

These new cars have been named the Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, and are of such an elaborate character as to invite increased respect for the great electric interurban syndicate which is gridironing all Illinois with its rails.

WHAT "JIM" KNOWS AND "BILL" IS LEARNING.

"Jim" Hill and journalism, or the history of the St. Paul Globe, is a story that may have an analogy in La Crosse.

"Jim" Hill owned the St. Paul Globe. He used it for a public sentiment factory. For years he ran it at a loss, and its editorials daily reflected the trend of the schemes of its notorious master. It sought to save the way for his public service incursions into the public purse; it bent its energies to defending his stock manipulations and land grabs; it played toady to the big toads in the financial puddle.

Everybody knew The Globe was "Jim" Hill's paper, and it was therefore useless to accomplish the things it was supposed to perform. People read it with tongue in cheek, not to be advised by it, but to speculate on what "Jim" was up to now. It had no influence, nor prestige nor following.

Moreover, The Globe was costing "Jim" a barrel of money every week. Lacking friends and patrons, The Globe was an elephant. It was dug up all the time, and even the multi-millionaire gets tired of playing the fielder who fails to produce the music. Every advantage of equipment, every scheme to promote popularity and circulation, was tried at lavish expenditure and all to no avail. Within one year of its suspension The Globe was supplied with splendid and expensive machinery to produce colored supplements of a most artistic sort. But it was no use; The Globe could become nothing more than the unheeded southpiece of financial greed.

And so, at last, the disgusted "Jim" Hill dropped The Globe. It's suspension was announced, and EVENING newspapers of the pro-trust variety told how it died because it was a MORNING paper. That was before Mr. Gelatt had annexed the management of The Chronicle from which Jim Stras was ousted, and he was one of those who said The Globe failed because it was a MORNING paper. But the independent newspapers old the truth; they said "Jim" Hill had learned that a newspaper notoriously owned by a public service magnate could not have respect and support of any community. That was why "Jim" Hill dropped The Globe.

How long will it be before "Bill" Cargill, Jr., drops The Leader-Press-Chronicle?

"Bill" Cargill first broke into journalism by buying The Chronicle. He realized better than did "Jim" Hill that knowledge of his ownership could prevent the public taking his newspaper seriously, so he pretended not to own it. When charged with its ownership, he made a worn affidavit that he did not own it. But later he admitted that he owned it, and that he had sworn to what was not true.

Then he ran it openly and notoriously as his personal organ, representing his light trust, his coal trust, his ice trust, his elevator trust, his wool trust, his street car company and his railroads. He ran it, and it cost him thousands after thousands of dollars, and nobody believed a word it said. It was dubbed, "The Morning Laughing Stock."

And so, having tired of spending his money foolishly, he "sold" it. He went under; the management of Mr. Gelatt, the original Frenzied Financier of Central Electric fame. Mr. Cargill announced that it was Mr. Gelatt's newspaper, and Mr. Gelatt allowed that he now owned both the Leader-Press and The Chronicle. People couldn't understand that, for Mr. Gelatt had never had money to pay for The Leader, and Mr. Cargill had refused $15,000 cash for The Chronicle. With what did Mr. Gelatt "buy" the Chronicle?

"With my common stock," swore Mr. Gelatt on the witness stand. "It's worth no more than $5,000," swore Mr. Gelatt on the witness stand. And everybody understood. Jim Stras stayed on to represent Mr. Cargill in the new newspaper, trust, and Bill Cargill paid the bills to run both papers at a loss. And everybody is waiting for Mr. Cargill to make an affidavit that he don't own either The Chronicle or the Leader-Press. But that is not what we intended to say. The analogy between "Jim" Hill and The Globe and "Bill" Cargill and The Leader-Press-Chronicle is likely to be practically drawn in some not distant day. What people are wondering about is this:

How long will it be before "Bill" Cargill learns a lesson from "Jim" Hill, and drops The Leader-Press-Chronicle?

COURT EVIDENCE, AND BARE ASSERTIONS.

Charles E. Seiler, a promoter of the Mexican Plantation Company has said some things about M. E. Horne, general manager of the company and a plaintiff in the suit against the promoters, which he may have a chance to prove. As published thus far, the accusations are not specific, but they are sufficiently so to provoke action from any but the most forbearing of men.

The Tribune has no defenses to offer for Mr. Horne. It does not know of what the bad record referred to by Mr. Seiler consists. He has lived here a long time, and is still at large, the inference being that he has managed to so deport himself as to avoid fractures of the rules prescribed for the regulation of the human conduct.

Up to date Mr. Horne has, so far as we know, made no charges that have been published against any of the defendants. The only charges against them are such as may be inferred from the evidence they themselves have given under oath. If this evidence has been such as to become a hurtful reflection upon them they cannot blame anyone. It is the facts acknowledged by them that bear witness against them. Mr. Horne will, in all probability, incorporate the deductions of himself and his attorneys from the evidence given in the supplementary hearing in a complaint that will be duly served, and at that time they become charges for which Mr. Horne will be responsible. Having given publicity to his counter charges, not in a court of law but in published letters, Mr. Seiler is already accountable. We presume that an accounting will be asked on Seiler's behalf it must be admitted that he and his associates have been given no chance to explain or qualify their testimony under oath.

The public is keenly interested in the affairs of the Mexican Plantation company. Anyone in La Crosse who does not own stock, or has not some relative or friend who does not own stock, must be a late comer to the city. Owing to the extent to which subscriptions have been taken, The Tribune feels that the news should be printed even at the risk of repeating bare assertions of interested parties. These things are distasteful often because they are apt to hit men whose records for integrity are so well established that nothing short of absolute proof will be accepted by the public as justifying acrimonious assertions.

It is evident that testimony of the character often referred to as "spicy" will be offered in the course of suits that are to be brought in the case. What is said under oath must be accepted as having that degree of verity commensurate with an accurate estimate of the reliability of the witness. An unsworn statement that one man was arrested for debt or that another is in ill repute and a falsefied, bandied outside the court, is entitled to the consideration that unkind things said by angry men usually receive. In due time the facts as secured under oath will be given to the public, and then and not until then will the public have a chance to weigh the evidence and pass judgment. At this stage in the proceedings, it looks as though a gold brick had been handed the people with a gloved hand. It also seems creditable and logical that men of "keen intelligence" etc., who risked thousands of dollars on the opinion that the plantation properties had value commensurate with their quoted prices, were honest in their convictions. Men are not wont to lend their credit to humbug enterprises with no other hope of return than that offered by the supposed earning capacity of the properties involved. The presumption is that those caught in a trap of this sort are the victims of—say, a misunderstanding. The Tribune does not assume to say that the claims of one man are false or that those of another are true. It merely suggests that unsworn statements are not so convincing as court testimony.

MORE FINES FOR MILLIONAIRES.

The packers have been found guilty of accepting rebates in violation of the interstate commerce law, and have been FINED.

That's it! Slap the sassy things on the wrist! What good does it do to fine these men? What do they care for a fine that they can recoup for in a single day's violation of the law they were fined for breaking?

This sort of punishment represents either cowardice or neglect of duty on the part of the courts. It is useless to make laws governing the conduct of a class of men whose money-powerfulness renders them immune from anything but punishment affecting their personal liberties, and enforce these laws only to the extent to which they can be enforced without inflicting actual punishment. A fine against the Armour crowd is no more than an annoyance. While we permit our rich malefactors to laugh at the law, the law will continue to laugh at most of the people. Heaven send an end to this farce, and a beginning of government by the people and for the people.

All efforts of trust newspapers, such as those owned and operated in the interest of the La Crosse public service corporations, to cast discredit upon Mr. Bryan or to accuse the democratic party of folly in seeking to nominate him, will be read with contempt if at all. The democratic party is showing sound judgment in selecting Mr. Bryan. The only doubt is whether Mr. Bryan will be wise to accept in the event of the nomination of either Roosevelt or La Follette by the republicans. He should be elected to the presidency, and we dislike to see him sacrificed to expedience under conditions which will make his election doubtful. Against any man but the two above referred to, he can be elected. It might be better for him to wait until they are out of the running. However, it may be impossible for Mr. Bryan to escape the responsibility so unanimous a party call places upon him.

"Nothing is impossible: there are ways which lead to everything; if we had sufficient will we should always have sufficient means." Newspaper advertising is "sufficient means" by which to accomplish any otherwise commercial "impossibility."

JUST LIFE

A Telephone Hint.

It is an almost universal custom when noises make it difficult to hear distinctly over a telephone to jam one finger in the free ear, glue the receiver to the other and shout at the top of one's voice through the transmitter.

This does not improve the situation. A telephone expert in the employ of the local line declares that when noises interfere with one's ability to hear distinctly, if the palm of the hand is placed flat over the transmitter the difficulty in hearing will be in part or wholly eliminated.

The reason for this he says, is that the noises enter the open transmitter, go around the circuit and back into the receiver at the ear of the speaker, whereas if the transmitter is covered by the palm of the hand while the user is listening and left open only when he is speaking the service will be improved a hundred per cent.

Hearts Repaired to Order.

Two physicians held the pulsating heart of William Wyatt, who had been stabbed in their hands for forty minutes while they took six stitches in the organ, in a New York hospital. His heart was then replaced and he is expected to recover.

We Produce the Managers.

Inasmuch as every La Crosse youth who leaves town in search of work appears in the newspapers as having "accepted the management of" some great industry at a gigantic salary, some people are wondering why on earth some of them do not accept a few managements around home.

Harry Palmer is seeking Angie Lenhoff's scalp. Well, that shouldn't bother Angie, unless he's been secretly wasting his money on hair-acide.

Kabat, the Kaukauna murderer, cannot explain why he kept a big bonfire burning on someone's else's farm for two days. His inability to offer a good excuse will cost him his liberty for life probably.

The subsidized press of the country is already trying to head off the Bryan boom.

You could hardly blame the waitresses for striking, if their stories are true.

Bryan's Boom.

It has come like the rush of an express train. A moment ago it was a dim speck on the horizon; now it looms a large and thundering reality almost upon us. Presently it will be in the past tense—Bryan a sure thing!

Too bad to tip off the fire boys that way.

And in all the noise during the Travelers' convention it was never mentioned that O. J. Oyen designed the handsome Welcome arch.

BASEBALL MUST COST BUT $1,000

According to the ruling of the directors of the Wisconsin League ball club salaries should be cut down to $1,000 per month by Friday of this week. Freeport is paying $500 more than the limit and La Crosse nearly $100 more. Other clubs are also exceeding the amount. No steps have been taken by any of the clubs to obey the ruling, and it is likely that the popular demand that the limit be increased, at least by $100 per month will be listened to by the directors. None of the teams can afford to discharge any of their good players, and all feel prosperous enough to pay better salaries.

SAYS HETTINGER MUST PAY BOND

District Attorney Otto Bosshard maintains that J. B. Hettinger, bondsman for Dr. Whipple, who left the city just before his trial on a charge of practicing osteopathy without a license, must pay the $100 forfeit by Whipple's disappearance. He maintains that the fact that Whipple was arrested later and brought back does not alter the case. Action against the bondsman was started after Whipple's disappearance, and under Bosshard's ruling is unlikely to be withdrawn.

ALMA HOTEL KEEP- ER DIES

Carl Mueller, proprietor of the Mueller hotel and one of the best known residents of Alma, Wis., dropped dead in his hotel.

The body has not been recovered.

ESCH BANKRUPTCY BILL PASSED

Grand Councillor Charles H. Chamberlain, on behalf of the state U. C. T. yesterday sent a congratulatory telegram to Congressman J. J. Esch on what he did with regard to the bankruptcy law for the travelers. Mr. Chamberlain received the following telegram in response:

BUYS SPLENDID FARM

Charles F. Plaff has purchased the splendid farm formerly owned by Frank Hermann. The deed was recorded today.

The property is one of the finest in the town of Farmington. The consideration recited in the deed is $7,125. This is the most important real estate transfer that has occurred in Farmington this year.

OLD LA CROSSE BALL TWIRLERS ARE MAKING GOOD

Letters from Don Cameron received by City Engineer Walter S. Wood indicate that the old La Crosse favorite is making good in his Springfield engagement. He is one of two stars who are winning for his team, excelling in the field and at bat.

Since being put back to his old position on second base, Cameron has been showing what he is good for. He is regarded in Springfield as a comer for the big league.

Bebee, the star twirler for Oshkosh last season, and Dodge, our own clever stickler, are both making good. There is no stronger pitcher in the Chicago Nationals than Bebee, whose percentage is up near the top. Dodge, playing with Omaha in the western league, is winning most of his games and is sure to be recalled to the big league at the close of the season if not before.

NEW NORTH SIDE BOWLING ALLEYS

Businessmen of the north side are engaged in the formation of a new bowling association.

It is the plan of the promoters to establish a new bowling alley, to be installed and owned by the club, and to be operated in accordance with rules governing alleys affording recreation to gentlemen.

A few weeks ago the Rorbaugh alleys were disposed of to the Winona Y. M. C. A., where they are now in use, and since then no alleys have been available. It is expected that a site will be selected on Rose street, and care will be taken to secure a stand not adjacent to any saloon.

SMART EFFECTS ...IN STRAWS

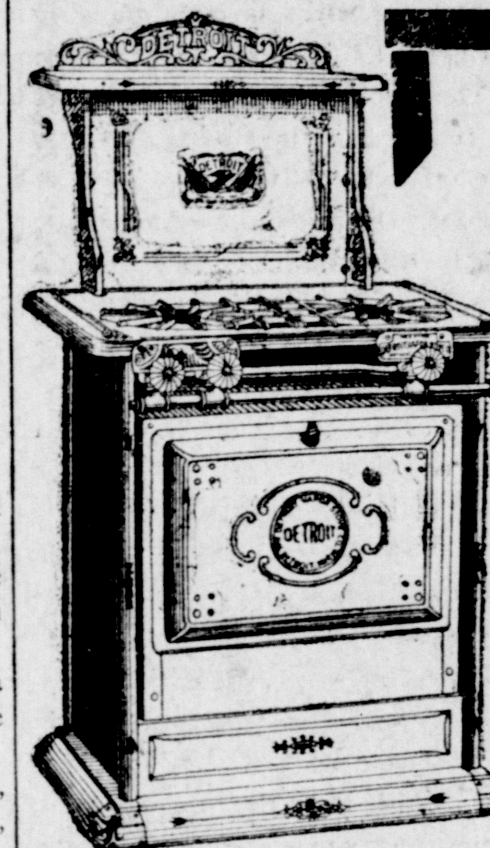

The radical changes in Straw Hat styles this summer are very likely proving a disappointment to those who expected to wear their last summer headwear over again. But when such persons see the improvement in this season's models and weaves they will willingly pay for a new one. The new weaves are of the light feather-weight variety and one of the most striking creations is the straw with the forward "dip" of the brim. We have this and all the others in generous variety.

MILITIA IS READY FOR ITS ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT

Companies B and M Expect to Make a Better Showing Than Ever on Range and at Drill

Companies M and B of La Crosse are preparing to make the annual visit to Camp Douglas. Arrangements are nearly completed for the encampment. The Third regiment is the first to go this year, the date being July 7th.

The La Crosse companies are working hard on the ranges. Company M has had the largest practice attendance of any company in the state. In Milwaukee, where there are five companies, a cavalry troop and a battery, the newspapers mentioned as remarkable the attendance of 75 men at a practice shoot. In the last two weeks the Sunday attendance of company M alone being 40 per day.

Captain Rawlinson, of M company, is optimistic about the shooting record to be made this year. Last year M made a total in volley firing of 484, or 90 points higher than the next nearest company. It also led in individual shooting. Lieutenant Fowler was fourth in the records without having practiced; it is expected that he will head the list this year.

Officials of both B and M are anxious that business houses here release their employees who are militiamen in order that they may go to camp. The company records are not the only reasons advanced. "Business houses should encourage the militia," said Captain Rawlinson this morning. "They are the ones benefited in case the militia is called out to protect property."

PRES. APPLAUDED

Roosevelt Saw Artist Now at the Bijou and Liked Work.

Mr. Aline, the clever hoop roller, who is on the bill at the Bijou this week and is furnishing one of the neatest acts that has yet been seen at that popular vaudeville house, talked of her work between performances last night to a representative of The Tribune, and in the course of the conversation made the above statement. "My home is in Columbus, Ohio," continued Mr. Aline, "and it was there that the hoop rolling act was originated by Everhart, a protégé of Al. G. Field, several years ago."

Started Five Years Ago. "Two years after Everhart made his appearance I conceived the idea that I could with practice do the hoop rolling act. I purchased some hoops and started in the rolling business, being allowed to work in the city hall where I was given the use of a large room. I had absolutely no idea of how difficult was the task I had laid out for myself or I never should have tackled it. But once started I resolved never to let up until I had mastered the art of hoop rolling to the extent of being able to perform the act on the stage. For one whole year I worked every day and worked harder than any washerwoman might work, but at the end of that time I had the satisfaction of knowing that I had developed into a finished hoop roller, and from the time I first presented my act in vaudeville five years ago I have never been out of an engagement.

"At the time I was learning to roll hoops I also practiced juggling Indian clubs, billiard balls and other objects and received a number of painful injuries in that work. Once the handle of a club struck me in the nose and broke it. Another time I was struck on one of my ears by a hoop and as a result the ear was crushed. But all that was a part of the game of learning and fortunately I suffered no ill after effects from the injuries."

Only Woman Hoop Roller. "There are numerous hoop rollers of the male persuasion before the public, but I am the only woman who is now doing the act. The reason for this is that it is an everlasting task to learn and few women have the nerve to tackle the job. Then it takes more strength than the average woman has to roll hoops and keep it up week after week and year after year. Still, I find the work very fascinating and I enjoy it thoroughly."

PRESS HAS BEEN SILENT THOUGH PUBLIC IS APPRECIATIVE

STODDARD HOTEL. La Crosse, Wis., June 13, 1906. Editor La Crosse Tribune:

Dear Sir: An artist who has been received in the principal cities of Europe and America, always with consideration, and at times even with acclaim, paints for a year and a day, and then, before the populace of London or Paris or New York is given a chance to voice its approval, he gives the city of La Crosse the delicate compliment of opening his exhibition for the first time "in any country" under the patronage of two of the leading organizations of women upon the east shore of the Mississippi.

In two evenings four hundred of La Crosse's most cultivated and intelligent people have expressed some measure of delight in viewing these pictures. Last evening, your ablest pulpit orator said, "The pictures are an inspiration to me, I wish the opportunity of seeing such works of art occurred oftener here." And one of your most scholarly men said, "I shall make it my business to direct the attention of every one I meet to these very remarkable pictures." In fact, the people themselves have been keenly appreciative, but the voice of the people (the press) has been dumb. I prithee, why for this silence? May I meet your art editor and try to convert him?

Yours truly, WM. VERNON.

W. Johnson, had not arrived.

Johnson was arraigned in county court at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and pleaded guilty, receiving a duplicate of Whipple's sentence, which was $75 and costs, or 40 days in jail. The costs amounted to $45.

Friends of the young men say they will pay their fines and leave within a day or two.

DEFENSE OF MURDERER KABAT IS NOT STRONG

APPLETON, Wis., June 13.—The Kabat Murder case is drawing to a close and matters look darker than ever for the prisoner. For two and a half hours District Attorney Krugmeier reviewed the evidence. An attack was also made on the evidence submitted by Mrs. Peck, sister of Kabat, and by Mrs. George Puchler of Green Bay. He said that the state had introduced six witnesses to prove that the testimony given by the two was not correct, and that Kabat could not have been in Green Bay the night of Sept. 13 and still be on the McCarthy farm at 7 o'clock the following morning. The testimony of five of the state's witnesses impeached the testimony of Mrs. Puchler, said Mr. Krugmeier.

The state's attorney dwelt for some time on the fact that Kabat has never stated he purchased the McCarthy farm and that the place had never been placed in his name, although he desired to clean up the farm the day after McCarthy disappeared. He pointed out that Kabat had no desire to clean up after the bonfires are burned a certain length of time and that instead of using the brush and rubbish he was seen by three witnesses to carry large chunks of wood, such as would have been valuable for fuel, to the fires for a period of two days. Attorney A. M. Spencer opened the argument for the defense.

The case will no doubt go to the jury this evening or early Thursday morning.

PUGS GROWING ACTIVE IN STATE

KENOSHA, Wis., June 11.—Before the Algonquin club Jack Bennett of Chicago knocked out George Schrosbee of Chicago in a minute and a half. Fred Cooley at once challenged Bennett, but Bennett gave preference to Young Mahoney of Racine, who will fight Hugo Kelley of Chicago this month at Indianapolis. The match between Bennett and Mahoney will be fought in Kenosha in a few weeks.

Kid Hertz knocked out Jimmy Connors of Fort Atkinson in two rounds of fighting.

Menzel of Waukegan forfeited to Mike Stanton of Chicago.

The fiercest bout was between Kid Berg, the 113-pound champion of the city, and Volley Johnson. It was declared a draw after six rounds.

Sam Sorenson and Young Moore fought a draw.

Portage—John Dryer, a farmer, was killed in a runaway.

TEMPERANCE PEOPLE AT MADISON

MADISON, Wis., June 13.—The prohibitionists are holding their state convention at Madison in the assembly chamber today and Thursday. The convention will be called to order at 1:45 p. m. today by State Chairman J. E. Clayton. The state committee has selected the Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton, for several years pastor of what is now the Wesley M. E. church of this city and who is now a resident of Madison, for temporary chairman.

This evening Homer L. Castle will deliver an address. Mr. Castle is an attorney of Pittsburg. Because of his knowledge of the political corruption existing on the part of the machine politicians of Pennsylvania and the Enterprise National bank and his exposure during the campaign in that state last year of their graft methods, which led to the election of W. H. Berry, a prohibitionist-democrat, as state treasurer, Mr. Castle was appointed by Mr. Berry special states attorney. Mr. Castle was nominated by the prohibitionists at their recent state convention in Pennsylvania, candidate for lieutenant governor.

Mrs. Carrie Nation has wired that she will be in Madison to make a speech today.

BOB WANTS TO BE SURE THERE IS NO MISTAKE

MILWAUKEE, June 13.—Senator La Follette is anxious that there shall be no hard and fast line upon the governorship until he arrives in the state. Those close to the senator have received letters from him in which he asks them not to take sides in the gubernatorial fight until he has taken gubernatorial fight until he has had time to see them and explain his views. The senator said that the situation was a critical one in the state, and there was a necessity for the enforcement of the new laws passed after so much trouble. He said he expected to be in Madison soon after July 1.

INDIAN MAID IMPRISONED FOR LIFE

OSHKOSH, Wis., June 13.—In the United States district court yesterday, Judge Quarles sentenced Lizzie Cardish, one of the two Indian girls charged with setting fire to the boys and girls' school building at the Indian reservation Jan. 17, 1905, to life imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth, Kas. She pleaded guilty. Louisa Lamott, the other girl charged with arson, was discharged.

WELLMAN'S AIRSHIP MOTOR TEST A SUCCESS

PARIS, June 13.—The public test today of the motors of Walter Wellman's dirigible balloon America, with which he is about to depart on the Wellman-Chicago Record-Herald expedition to the north pole, was eminently successful. The machines developed a capacity of 100 horse-power instead of the contract of seventy-five. The envelope, appliances and provisions also were exhibited and excited intense interest among aeronauts, military men, members of the press and notable men of all branches of science representing most of the European countries, who had gathered at Saint Ouen to witness the completed work.

The Prince of Monaco congratulated both Mr. Wellman and Constructor Godard, and stated his intention of proceeding in his yacht in July to Spitzbergen to carry out certain scientific work. The prince offered to assist the expedition by conveying belated supplies or in any other way.

Several scientists told Mr. Wellman that the construction of his airship was a great step in advance. Mr. Wellman and other members of the expedition expressed satisfaction with the results already attained and confidence of further success. Every possible precaution has been taken, Mr. Wellman said, to insure the attainment of the goal aimed at. The delay caused by the recent strikes prevented an attempt at inflation of the balloon in Paris, but thorough trials will be made at Dane's Island, which affords a better opportunity for a test of the airship under proper atmospheric conditions.

The visiting public showed an eagerness to secure souvenirs in the shape of portions of the material of which the airship is constructed.

Mr. Wellman intends to start northward either Thursday or Friday of this week.

JANESVILLE FOR BRYAN

JANESVILLE, Wis., June 13.—That the Rock county democratic convention, which meets in Janesville on June 25, will instruct its delegates to the state convention for Bryan is thought certain. Mayor J. F. Hutchinson, ex-County Chairman P. J. Mouat, advanced as a candidate for congress, County Chairman J. J. Cunningham, and others are enthusiastic in their indorsement of the Nebraskan.

Freshman Crew Goes East

MADISON, WIS., June 13.—Freshmen and varsity eights will represent Wisconsin in the annual intercollegiate boat races at Poughkeepsie this year. The four will be left at home. It has been customary in the past when the finances were low to take the varsity eight and the four, but this year the freshmen have been doing such consistent work right along that it has been decided to take them rather than the four, as the additional expense will be comparatively small.

The men will leave here Friday or Saturday morning, probably the latter. They will have a special coach and a special baggage car, the latter for the shells that will be taken down. The car will be switched onto another road at Chicago and will be sent to Buffalo, from which place it will be sent to Poughkeepsie. Probably a sub for each boat will be taken and the men will take along the water they will drink on the trip.

It is hardly expected that the men will feel the effects of the trip as much this year as they did the last. Each man on the varsity boat lost from five to ten pounds last year, but the men have more endurance and are in much better shape at this time than they were last season.

It is largely to the work of the committee of twenty-five that the eastern trip will be taken. It is fiction to make the affair successful, but in order to take no chances the committee has guaranteed a small loan so that there will be no trouble in having the money on hand.
